Thanks. I will be out of the office through Friday at a conference, but could touch base later in the week.

Rebekah—

I just left you a voicemail with an update regarding Ormat's communications. They've figured out a few workarounds and expect to have all communications restored by first thing next week. I received from the facility today additional documentation responsive to Finding 14.5, which I will have labeled and ready to go by Monday morning.

I'll be in the office for another 30 minutes or so. If that doesn't work, we can touch base on Monday.

Thanks very much,

Emily
